CITY TRUSTEES

The Garbage Question—Cars Must Have Lights if Left on Street at Night—Nuisances Discussed—Sidewalk Improvements

All members present. A larger attendance of citizens than usual in the audience. The minutes of late previous meetings were read and approved. The rules were suspended and Mr. Burner addressed the board in regard to the disposal of garbage for the city. He stated that the first essential is a place where garbage can be disposed of temporarily, in which case a satisfactory disposition can readily be made of it. He was informed that a committee of the board had been endeavoring ineffectually for some months past to obtain the use of ground for this purpose. The discussion which followed showed that the idea of Mr. Burner was to collect the garbage, charging every family a certain fixed sum per month or week. Nothing definite was done, the matter being left to be informally considered. Mr. Anderson brought before the board the fact that the cars of the Glendale and Eagle Rock railroad are left on the streets at night after they cease running, without any lights, and are therefore a menace to the safety of the public. The matter was referred to the fire and public safety committee. The city marshal reported on the nuisance maintained at the Goodell packing house, the engine in use there is certainly in need of muffling (or muzzling), and a pest in the neighborhood, the users of it, however, told him that the season is about at an end and probably the thing will be replaced by an electric motor in the near future. The city clerk was instructed to send a communication to the lessees of the building, insisting that the nuisance be abated. The city marshal reported that the progress made by the Glendale Mill & Lumber Co. in cleaning up their mill is practically nothing. Mr. E. G. Pack addressed the board on the same subject. He informed them that the representative of the insurance companies is threatening to have all policies on adjoining properties cancelled, and desired that the city take steps by exercising its authority to protect property interests in that neighborhood. A letter was read also complaining of the noise made by the new planing mill, to such an extent that a house belonging to Mr. C. M. Buck had become tenanted. Mr. Buck also asked the Glendale Mill & Lumber Co. to be required to desist from encroaching upon his property by piling lumber over it. A motion was adopted declaring the Glendale Mill & Lumber Co. a public nuisance and the city attorney instructed to abate the same.

The city engineer and city attorney were instructed to prepare a resolution of intention to put in a sidewalk on Seventh street under the Johnson act of 1909, an act similar to the Vrooman act, with exception of the bond feature. It was further agreed as the sense of the trustees that in cases where the majority of the front owners desire sidewalks put in, the trustees will favor proceedings under the above named act. The street superintendent reported the improvement of Glendale avenue as proceeding satisfactorily and that improvement of Franklin Court and Fourth street had been begun by Contractor Sinclair and both the last named streets will probably be completed in forty days. In order to get the matter properly on the minutes, a resolution was adopted, rejecting the offer of Gen. Manager McMillan of the Pacific Electric, to put in temporary crossings on certain streets along Brand boulevard.

A petition signed by J. C. Hunchberger and a number of other property owners along Central avenue, was presented to the trustees, requesting that that thoroughfare be given immediate attention with a view to putting it in a condition fit for travel. It was stated that Mr. Pridham, county supervisor, is willing to co-operate with the city in doing such work. The street superintendent reported that there is at present no money available for any considerable work on this street and under present conditions it is not in his opinion advisable to spend money there. The city tax collector reported a total of $374.45 paid in on taxes up to date. Manager Lynch of the electric light department was granted a ten days' leave of absence.

A letter to the manager of the Pacific Electric Railroad company, has been forwarded by the city clerk under the direction of the city trustees, requesting that company to deed to the city of Glendale the necessary land for street crossings on Brand boulevard, at Lomita avenue, Maple avenue and the westerly prolongation of Ninth street, stating that the question of crossings is a proposition separate from that of grade. The city further suggests that if the railroad company will furnish the material the city will do the work, if temporary crossings are put in.

Millard Newton of the U. S. Navy is at his home at the corner of Second and Adams streets on a week's furlough.

Miss Grace Harris of Rochester, N. Y., is spending the week with Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chase of West Fourth street.

CONSOLIDATION

Communications from Mr. Hugh Blue and P. S. McNutt, Esq.

WHAT GLENDALE CAN DO.

By P. S. McNutt.

I have had the pleasure recently of spending a week in the city of Fresno. Some years ago I was a resident of that place. It was then a city of some 3000 souls, or about the size of Glendale now. It has developed and expanded until it has become as fine a place as Pasadena and as large, having a population of over 30,000 people. It is very interesting to note the things the Fresno people are enjoying. They have beautiful Commercial Park, Court House Park, Redding Park, Zapp's Park, Recreation Park, Kearney Park and some other small ones. These named are large and well-kept. The Court House Park is in the center of the city, contains four square blocks, is covered with grass and large shade trees, and is the finest resting place the writer has seen in many years of travel.

They have a $30,000 Carnegie library building in which are 15,000 volumes of books and many periodicals and daily papers. They have a $65,000 city hall and a $75,000 Y. M. C. A. building. The Y. M. C. A. building is equipped with a fine gymnasium, bathrooms and a plunge, billiard tables, library, lecture rooms, offices and places to play basketball and many other games.

They have fine school and church buildings with ample grounds. The streets are very wide, all the inside ones being paved with asphalt, and the outside ones graded, oiled and tamped. No dust.

The sidewalks are all of cement and none less than six feet in width, even in the residence district.

They have an elegant sewer system and have no river or an outfall either. Their water supply cannot be surpassed, and it all comes from wells pumped by electricity. Every residence has a lawn of green grass and has beautiful trees and shrubbery.

Their street car system is a marvel. All are wide-gauge tracks and double. Their fire department is up to date with good houses for needed apparatus. One of them was lounging in a week. One of them was lounging in a week. One of them was lounging in a week. One of them was lounging in a week.

It is a treat to visit that city and it must be a great satisfaction to live there. Glendale has most of the opportunities, perhaps not quite all, that Fresno has had to become an important city. She surely has the same ones that Pasadena has had.

"The heights by great men reached and kept, Were not attained by sudden flight, But they, while their companions slept, Were toiling upward in the night."

This is true of cities as well as of men. A sleeping city can never get very high. The present Glendale is too small in territory to ever accomplish anything great. The strip around her is too small of itself, and by its very location cannot do great things alone. By uniting in co-operative effort we could become a Fresno or a Pasadena. This is an opportunity which will not remain open to Glendale. The territory proposed now to be annexed is contiguous, is similar in every way and logically and for the best interests of everybody in the vicinity should be made a part of Glendale. Together we could accomplish wonders.

This outside part will soon incorporate for itself, or will join itself to some other city, either one of which will forever seal the fate of Glendale. The man who goes before the board of trustees and protests against annexation has either some private, selfish interest to serve or else he is deluded. The person who gets upon the platform and talks against consolidation is working against himself, and contrary to the interests of every man, woman and child in the valley. The poorest citizen in Glendale or outside is he who refuses to do anything because of the claim that we have about everything. It shows a lack of knowledge. The saddest words of tongue or pen are these, "It might have been." Our Master when He stood upon the hills above Jerusalem looked down over that city and wept when He thought of what Jerusalem might have been, but was not. Will any one in future years stand upon the hills about us and weep as he looks out over this valley and thinks of what Glendale might have been but is not? And there are not two sides to this consolidation matter. It is only a question as to whether Glendale will remain a small and insignificant place, or whether she will remain awake and by toiling upward in the night become a large city of great importance and usefulness.

Casa Verdugo, Cal., Oct. 5, 1910. Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

Dear Sir: It is not time that every one who has a mind of his own should know how he stands with reference to the question of annexation. Surely we have read enough about it and listened to oratory enough on the subject, and the man who has not made up his mind has no excuse except that he doesn't care a snap or is mentally incompetent and shouldn't be considered anyhow. Now, we in Casa Verdugo—meaning in that territory north of a line drawn east and west between Burchett and Arden avenue, have tried to get the true opinion of the property holders by making a house to house canvass and getting the opinion, for or against, of every resident in that district. The result has shown that the great majority is against being annexed. I think the figures are 109 against annexation, 9 for and about 6 who have taken advantage of the "don't care" or "non compos mentis" excuses.

Now this being the case, what is going to be done about it? If the committee and the various people who are working for a larger Glendale really want to act fairly in the matter there is only one course open to them and that is to make the line of the proposed extension exclude this territory—that is the one and only fair way to settle the question. We who own property in that district are entitled to form and express an opinion on the subject and to have that opinion considered whether or not we are qualified voters.

One of the army of cheap orators in favor of annexation, in the course of one of his arguments charged that as I was not a naturalized citizen of the United States, I was not qualified to have any voice in the matter; this, I think, is a fair sample of the arguments used and the spirit of fairness shown by those who would annex us against our will.

For the benefit of the gentleman who made that remark I will state that on the 15th of last month I completed the five years required by law and am now a fully qualified citizen of the United States. I am proud of that citizenship and shall try to deserve it by cultivating that quality of fair-mindedness which is the basis of good citizenship and which I am afraid the gentleman who made that remark, to my mind that man is a good citizen who sacrifices his opinion for the benefit of the community as evidenced by the opinion of the large majority of property owners in that community.

Yours truly,

HUGH BLUE.

Arden avenue.

TROPIC CIVIC ASSOCIATION MEETING.

An unusually lively time was experienced at the regular meeting of the Tropic Civic association at Logan's hall last Friday evening. The result of the meeting was that the cause of annexation of surrounding territory to Glendale received a decided boost.

The residents of Tropic started as early as 7:15 to gather about the entrance of the hall, but up until 8 o'clock the meeting place was dark. No one knew definitely whether or not a meeting would take place. No one seemed greatly to care, the crowd seemed satisfied to assemble in small groups along the sidewalk and ramble over the general town talk. Finally the man with the key arrived, the hall was lighted and the big thing was on. At the outset a letter of resignation was received from Roy F. Bancroft, in which the secretary of the organization stated that his rapidly-growing business would make it impossible to serve the association, although under other circumstances he would have been more than pleased to do so. Then, for half an hour, the meeting was turned over to a futile attempt to select a secretary to fill the vacancy in that office. It reminded one of an old-fashioned Methodist testimony meeting. One member rose to nominate a brother to fill the office and before the echo of the words had drifted as far as the corners of the hall, that dear brother, sitting to his feet protesting that because of this or the other thing it would be impossible for him to "hold down" this most valuable office. Thus a half hour was passed without results and upon motion the matter was laid on the table until some future time when it was hoped that the spirit would move the heart of some member to take the "job."

A terrible quiet then filled the hall. No one spoke, in fact, they seemed to hold their breath. The suspense grew to be something terrible—everyone knew what was coming, but no one dared to break into the subject. Finally, Mr. Carmack put an end to the terrible nervous strain by rising and stating that he had something real good to put before the association—something that he had gleaned since the last meeting of the organization. He claimed that it was possible for districts outside of an incorporated city to have improved streets and it was possible for the majority of the people in a certain district if they wanted better streets, etc., to force a few of the "Mossbacks" who did not care to improve their property and in that way work for the good of all, to put in these needed improvements. This, he said, could be done just the same as in incorporated cities.

"All you have to do," claimed Mr. Carmack, "is to simply appoint a competent man to find the grade and state the cost of the improvement; then notice of improvement would be published for 20 days. If the move is not protested by a majority of the voters, then the residents can move on to further improvements. It is impossible to protest any part of the district to be improved; if any is to be protested it must be the whole. The work is then given to the lowest responsible bidder and operations proceed with. Bonds can be issued the rate of interest not to exceed 7 per cent and to run not longer than 20 years."

Mr. Carmack's points looked very nice until the always ready and reliable Mr. A. M. Watson obtained the floor and started his deadly work. The slaughter was terrible, and when he sat down those against annexation had not a straw on which to stand. He said in part: "Do you know that when you are having this work done, if you are outside of a city, you will be compelled to pay the regular county road tax of 60 cents, just as do others who are not paying heavily to have their roads improved? For several years after your roads have been improved they will need no care and consequently you are paying this 60 cents county tax and receiving nothing, that will be used to keep roads in other sections in good condition. If we did away with the county rate of 60 cents I would not complain, but we must pay double."

Other points just as important were presented by Mr. Watson, but they did not satisfy his opponents. They came in two deep and he very calmly separated them and politely handed each something that stopped their flow of words temporarily. There was nothing to it. Mr. Watson carried the meeting and proved that when it comes down to figures, the articles that really count, he had a supply that would last for years to come.

When the fireworks ceased to some extent, a recess of ten minutes was called. After recess the only important move made was to secure a secretary, S. G. Biddle kindly consenting to act in that capacity, as he put it, "As everyone else has declined to accept, I will accept the honor."

During the evening it was decided to appoint a committee of members from the opposing sides in this question and to have these committees meet in private session and thrash the matter out, the result of this meeting to be offered to the residents of the valley.

THE SCHOOLS

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Grace and Miss Floy Walker, members of the ninth year class, have withdrawn from the school and moved to Los Angeles.

Miss Marguerite Stauffacher of Long Beach High entered the tenth year class on Monday.

Mr. Taylor spent Friday last at Gardena visiting the Agriculture High school there.

Mr. Taylor's department is doing practical work and is making a very careful study of germination in all varieties of common seeds. It is planned to have a lath house out of doors where seeds may be germinated, slips sprouted, and plants of various choice varieties grown.

Dana Burket and Louis Bittie are in school again after a several days' absence.

The interclass basket ball games have been entered into with a vim. On Wednesday, Oct. 2, the Seniors defeated the Sophomores 51 to 11. On Thursday the Juniors defeated the Freshmen, score 45 to 5.

On Friday the Juniors defeated the Sophomores, score 16 to 14. This game was as close and hard a game and created excitement as intense as any engagement between schools ever played on the court.

On Monday the Seniors defeated the Freshmen, score 106 to 2. On Tuesday the Seniors defeated the Juniors, score 20 to 6.

The music department under Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, has been splendidly organized and is doing excellent work. It has now about two hundred members, which have been subdivided into a girls' glee club, a boys' glee club, Junior glee club, mixed chorus, mandolin club, general orchestra and classes in history of music and harmony.

They are planning to give two musicals towards the end of the quarter, one of miscellaneous numbers and one entirely of Mendelssohn's compositions.

On Friday evening the Senior girls will entertain the Senior boys at the home of Miss Emily Elias in Tropic in appreciation of the fact that the Senior boys were the champions of the interclass games.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES.

The fourth street school has a new teacher, Miss Olga Grizzle of Corona, who has taken charge of the Fifth grade.

Mr. G. E. Williams, who for the past four years has been a member of the grammar school board, resigned during the past week for business reasons. His successor has not yet been appointed.

The Jewel City Furniture Co., 1104 West Fourth street, is the place to go for everything in the furniture line.

GUERNSEY OPENS BRANCH STORE

F. H. Guernsey, one of our most enterprising merchants, will open a branch jewelry store at 1102 West Fourth street, the opening to take place next Monday morning. Mr. Guernsey's business has grown to such a degree that he will be compelled to make expansion in other lines in the very near future.

At his branch store he will carry a fine array of up-to-date jewelry, and the prices will be the same "city prices" that have prevailed at his store No. 1. Watch, clock and jewelry repairing will also be neatly done at this branch. In addition to the jewelry, a fine line of kodaks and kodak supplies will be maintained. An elaborate display of artistic and comic postcards will be offered to the public. A line of stationery in all its branches will be a feature of the establishment. While all the popular magazines will be on sale, a department of picture framing will be maintained.

The store room has been fitted out with mission fixtures and the green background will set off the jewelry very nicely. The show window has been built especially for this business. It will be lighted with 40-candle-power tungsten lights. John Marvel, one of our well-known young men, will be in charge of this branch, and promises efficient and cordial service.

DO-RE-MI CLUB.

On Saturday afternoon, Miss Emma Williams entertained the Do-Re-Mi club, a musical organization, at her home on North Central avenue.

The program consisted of a number of selections, both instrumental and vocal; after which dinner was announced.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. The guests gathered around the large oval table where dinner in a number of courses was served. The afternoon was completed by an animated conversation held over the remains of the feast.

Chamber of Commerce

At its meeting held last Tuesday night at I. O. O. F. hall, various matters of interest to the whole valley were discussed. A large number applied for membership, whose applications were referred to the Membership Committee for action. The meeting was largely attended. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening next, October 18th, at the same time and place.

On Wednesday evening special music and dancing were provided at the pavilion in Verdugo Park.

GLENDALE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The opening of this enterprising club, Tuesday last, in its new quarters, Filger's opera house, was a grand success in every way. The decorations were very artistic, the music was appealing and full of harmony. Mrs. Bryant rendered some folk lore songs with great taste and sweetness. Mrs. C. G. Farrow gave two charming selections on the piano, and won well-merited applause. Miss Williams and Mr. Krantz gave two beautiful instrumental duets, with violin and piano, the selections were at once delicate and full of vitality; both are skilled musicians and gave the audience great pleasure. The president, Mrs. M. H. Gridley, gave a message to the club which clearly outlined the work she desired the organization to take up during the coming year, on all the vital questions of the hour. She has originated a system by which the club cannot help working in complete harmony. Her ideas on civic art should be carried out in all their details. The plans put forth for a young people's auxiliary society met with wild enthusiasm on the part of all present and will, no doubt, materialize in an organization which will be of lasting benefit to the young people of Glendale. Her address showed study, discipline and thought, which enrich a receptive and responsive nature. One man said, "It was an education in itself to listen to such a paper." We only wish she would permit it to be published.

Glendale is certainly to be congratulated that it has such a club which should be called a "Bureau of Information" on questions of national importance. No woman can afford to miss the opportunity of belonging to a club which is bristling with such intellectual vigor and moral force. It is power for good in the community. There is no reason why this club should not be the largest and most influential woman's club in Southern California. They have the intellect, principle and resources. Many Los Angeles people, Hollywood and Tropic visitors were present, and were enthusiastic in their praises of the president's address.

After the conclusion of the formal program a social hour followed during which the house committee, of which Mrs. D. W. Hunt is chairman, served refreshments.

Press Correspondent.

BASEBALL ITEMS.

Saturday the Union Hardware and Metal Co. defeated the Verdugo Park team by a score of 7 to 8, the winning point was made in the tenth inning.

On Sunday Verdugo lost its first league game to the West Jefferson Merchants, score 8 to 4. This places the team on the same level as the Wilelands, whom they defeated several weeks ago with a score of 1 to 0.

Next Saturday Verdugo will meet the U. S. C. Freshmen and on Sunday they will play the Laundale team.

Miss Anna Tatum of Little River, Texas, arrived in the valley Wednesday evening and will remain permanently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hoopell of Christopher street.

GLENDALE, CAL., OCTOBER 14, 1910

The very satisfactory results so far of the appeal published last week for the benefit of the families of the victims of the Times tragedy, is principally due to the good work of Messrs. Ezra F. Parker and C. H. Allen, who raised "seventy dollars in seventy minutes." May they have imitators!

The rain shower of last Monday morning, measuring about a tenth of an inch, comes near being the earliest date for a fall rain which the "oldest inhabitant" knows of. There has been a noticeable fall in temperature since it occurred and the air has in it the exhilaration of those days in the eastern woods when the chestnuts begin to ripen, although as yet there is no touch of frost.

Governor Gillett's state road scheme does not seem to meet with approval in this section of the state. To the people of Los Angeles county who have bonded their property to the extent of $3,500,000 for a road system within the county, the state road plan is not attractive. It is one of those questions which can best be settled by counties with possibly an occasional exception, and this is most likely to be the opinion which the majority of voters will render at the polls.

The proposition to bond the state for $5,000,000 for the purpose of securing government backing for the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco in 1915 is, however, quite a different matter. The double attraction which will be offered to the world by the two expositions, San Francisco and San Diego, will bring to the coast an unprecedented tide of travel and be of widespread benefit; and assuredly Los Angeles county can afford to pay its proportion of the cost.

One of the greatest and most successful undertakings of this present age of great accomplishments is the work now about completed, of raising the grade of the city of Glendale from two to fourteen feet, at a cost of $2,000,000. Five hundred city blocks had to be filled to an average depth of 6 1/2 feet. Three thousand buildings had to be raised, of all kinds, frame, brick, stone; residences, churches, business houses and manufacturing establishments. The filling in was done by pumping water and sand, through an immense pipe line a mile long, which connected at the outer end with the barges supplying the sand, unloading one of them in from thirty minutes to an hour and a quarter. The raising of the grade required the city to be practically made over, as all trees and shrubbery had to be raised. In the main park of the city these were raised without disturbing their growth. The great sea wall built for the protection of the city is 17 feet above low water level. It is four miles long and cost $2,091,000, being erected by the government.

Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Los Angeles Owens River aqueduct, expects that system to bring to the city 20,000 inches of water, of which he thinks for present purposes only 2000 inches will be needed in the municipality. The question of the disposition of this surplus, is now occupying the attention of the water board. Mr. Mulholland estimates that the 18,000 inches will be sufficient to irrigate 133,000 acres. He suggests that a charge for the use of this water amounting to $10 an acre for a year, shall be made, but that the city shall not part with its title to the entire supply.

The question is a difficult one and the principal feature of it appears to be that of finding a market for this immense quantity of water. It may be found in actual experience that instead of getting this surplus disposed of so as to produce a yearly income of over six million dollars, at which it is now estimated in advance, the income from this source will for the first few years be very small indeed.

COLUMBUS DAY.

Ever in search for an excuse for a new holiday, the legislature of the state of California recently discovered Columbus, after he had been neglected by them for 400 years or thereabouts, and decreed that on the twelfth of October forever after, every bank and every state and county office, or the persons contained therein, should desist from all semblance of labor and usefulness and proceed to keep green the memory of the great discoverer. And it was time; the only matter for doubt is, will they do it? A trip to the beach, a joy-ride to the mountains or digging in the home garden, may prove to be pleasant recreation, but it does not necessarily go far toward rejuvenating a dead Columbus. But what does it matter, anyhow! We have fresher heroes than Columbus and have done pretty well to remember him as long as we have. That sounds a little ungrateful, however, which we are not. We would remind our esteemed contemporary, the Los Angeles Express, that Columbus did not discover California. He missed it by more than a yard. California remained undiscovered until 1534 when two of the ships composing the fleet of Cortez out on a voyage of discovery, brought Spanish eyes to bear upon its golden coast.

Columbus went back to Spain in chains, but he was not the author of the saying "Republics are ungrateful." Young Americans may well recall, if they have time to do so on this busy holiday, that there are no more continents lying out of doors waiting to be discovered, but that Columbus left a lot of other things for them to do, many of which are quite worth while. Meanwhile they can sing that pretty little song and be glad:

"Columbus sailed across the sea
To find this land for you and me."

MAKE IT UNQUALIFIED.

It is encouraging to note the almost unanimous expression in the press everywhere of unqualified sympathy for the proprietor of the Los Angeles Times and utter condemnation of the diabolical act which destroyed a half a million dollars' worth of property, and over a score of human beings. But here and there in the comments on the crime is noticeable an undercurrent of a contrary nature which should have no place even in the innermost thoughts of the writers, a few of whom express the thought that the editor and proprietor of that paper is himself largely responsible for the dreadful act, by reason of his attitude toward labor unions. In a case of less terrible importance, the suggestion of such an idea in debating the matter, could readily be met by the assertion that it was "begging the question," but in the present instance, this covert method of excusing the crime is infinitely worse than any mere travesty of logic. The slightest deviation from unqualified denunciation of such a crime is readily seized upon by the ismaels of society and twisted into encouragement of their war against humanity. The very slightest suggestion of the shadow of doubt in condemning this outrage against that law which says "Thou shalt not kill," is an insidious evil in itself and a type of that anarchistic coddling of crime which more than anything else, magnified as it becomes in the morbid mind of the misfector, nerves his hand to throw the bomb and scatter death and destruction among his kind. It is bad enough that in hasty speech, thoughtless people should qualify their condemnation of such an outrage against humanity with "ifs" and "buts," but in cold type it is more in keeping with the mental output of John Most and Emma Goldman, than of responsible journalism.

PACIFIC COAST DEFENCES.

The recrudescence of the agitation for adequate military protection for the undefended Pacific coast line, promises definite results this winter. The calling by Gov. Gillette of a Pacific Coast Congress, to discuss the best methods to employ, in obtaining military recognition from the federal government is a promising initial move. The voice of the people of the great commonwealths which constitute this western empire, will command the respect of congress. It is not probable, that the battle fleet will be moved to Pacific waters in the near future, for several reasons. It is imperative that the entire fighting line of the navy, should be kept in a tactical unit, so that the fleet commander can direct and command the same fleet in time of peace that he would be called upon to fight in time of war. The dockage facilities on the Pacific are not sufficient to care for the battle fleet and the ships would rapidly deteriorate. This will be corrected when the naval base at Bremerton are completed. Then the coast can demand the presence of the fleet in Pacific waters. As an immediate defensive measure the congress should demand the establishment of large garrisons of infantry troops at all coast centers. These troops would deter any enemy from attempting a landing along the coast line and would make the harbor defenses secure against land attack. At present any of the coast batteries can be taken by a small force if attacked from the rear. And in this connection, the delegates from Southern California, should demand the establishment of a large garrison of at least a division of troops contiguous to Los Angeles. It is certain that the strength of the army will be increased this year, especially in the infantry branch, when the report of the secretary of war, setting forth the military weakness of the nation, is presented to congress. This report, which is in reply to the McLachlan resolution, introduced by the congressman from this district, Washington dispatches state is startling in its disclosures of the military weakness of the nation. Let Southern California demand that her rich empire be made secure through the presence of a strong fighting force within her borders.

DEATH OF ISAAC T. CHASE.

Mr. Isaac T. Chase, aged 79, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, October 12th, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. N. Witham, on Lomita avenue. Mr. Chase had been in feeble health for a year or more and although suffering little pain, has recently been quite helpless. The end came peacefully and without apparent suffering. A sister, Mrs. Merritt, who recently arrived from her home in Michigan, and his daughter, Mrs. Witham, were with him in his last hours, although at the moment of his passing away both were temporarily absent from his bedside. The funeral will be held at the residence, Lomita avenue, near Adams, at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Isaac T. Chase was born near Rochester, N. Y., 79 years ago. In 1857 he went to Kansas, having a quarter section of land twenty miles from Leavenworth, but only remained there a year or so, when he went to Michigan for a short time, but finally returned to New York, where he engaged in business and spent the balance of his life there until coming to California, Glendale, six years ago.

The weddings of Mr. Chase and that of his sister, Mrs. Merritt, who arrived in time to spend with him the last few days of his life, took place on the same day.

He was a man of active mind and always took a lively interest in current affairs.

BIDDING FOR THE EXPOSITION.

The following is from the New Orleans Item:
"In all of eleven European countries which I have just visited, everybody is in favor of the Panama Exposition being held here," said Mr. Thomas Sweeney, who returned to New Orleans from Europe Friday morning. Mr. Sweeney has the distinction of having contributed the largest amount of any individual to the exposition—$5000. Of course, firms and corporations have passed this mark, but no single person has up to this time.

"It is certain that every important country in Europe will have a fine exhibition here," continued Mr. Sweeney. "I was astonished at the interest which is being manifested in the New Orleans celebration. New Orleans is as well known in every part of Europe as New York City is in this part of the country."

San Francisco also has reason to be proud of the liberality of the subscribers to the exposition fund in view of the fact that there are just seventy individuals who subscribed $5000 or more.

Twenty-seven individuals in San Francisco have subscribed $25,000 each.

SCHLEIN-KIDDER.

P. E. O. MEETING.

On Monday evening, Oct. 10th, members of Chapter L. P. E. O., met with Mrs. Josephine Byrkit at her home on Belmont street. Owing to the fact that the former president, Mrs. H. P. Smith, has moved to Berkeley, Cal., Mrs. Edith Hunchberger has been duly installed as president and her place as vice president was at that meeting filled by the election of Mrs. Jessie Russell, who is thoroughly versed in matters pertaining to P. E. O. and has many times proven herself an efficient leader. P. E. O. has so grown and gradually spread over our fair country that today there is no larger secret organization for women pertaining to religious, educational and literary affairs, in the world than P. E. O.

The straight talk by the president on "What It Really Means to be a P. E. O." stirred every heart and with renewed interest important work for the near future was mapped out and dates set. The first affair is to be an initiation service next Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. May Lee on Cedar street, when Mrs. Sue Dow of First street will be taken into the sisterhood. Committees were appointed for a Halloween jollification on the evening of October 24 at the home of the president. Recent letters received by the chapter were from members and former residents. Mrs. H. P. Smith of Berkeley and Mrs. Francis Hendershott Walton of Crescent City. There was a good attendance.

PARISH HOUSE BENEFIT.

The concert and vaudeville entertainment given last Friday evening at Filger Opera house, was a success from every point of view and from the fact that a number of the artists participating were professionals. It was as expected, a treat to the large audience assembled. The clever sketch by Dr. Bachman, entitled "Tri-angle," was one of the main features of the evening. It was well acted and gave evidence of the doctor's skill as a dramatist. The deserving fund to well which the performance was given, was no doubt made considerable richer by the evening's entertainment. It was a parish house benefit, proceeds to apply on the new residence being built for Father O'Neill on Lomita avenue. Dr. Bachman and his associates are to be congratulated on the entire success of the entertainment.

STATE HEALTH BOARD REPORTS GARBAGE DISPOSAL.

Hogs will be served food in original packages, and cans in the alleys will for once fall the fly as free lunch counters and places of breeding. If California cities adopt the package garbage plan which has been tried out in several American and Canadian cities. At least this inference may be gathered from a report on garbage disposal which has been prepared in the office of the state board of health at Sacramento. "A representative of the state board," it is stated, "has recently investigated the package-garbage system of Minneapolis and reports that aside from favoring cleanliness and preventing fly breeding the introduction of the plan has saved the city a considerable sum in the expense of garbage disposal." The method has proved so satisfactory in Minneapolis that it will be recommended for approval by the California League of Municipalities which meets at San Diego, October 16-19, 1910.

The report to the state board of health is in part as follows: "In Minneapolis a city ordinance requires that all refuse capable of decay shall be wrapped in paper before being deposited in garbage cans. The paper wrappings, it is found, prevent refuse from attracting flies, and by doing away with filth accumulations in the findings of cans prevent fly breeding. In a cold country there is also the great advantage of preventing the garbage freezing to the can."

Mrs. Eva Barnes and Miss Eleanor and Miss Kathryn Clemons have returned from a three months' absence spent on the Atlantic Coast. As a result of the journey they have decided to remain permanently in Southern California.

GLENDAL, CAL., OCTOBER 14, 1910

EVERYONE FOR JAMES.

One of the largest petitions to nominate an independent candidate ever filed in the office of the secretary of state was forwarded to that office this week. The petition was to nominate Associate Justice William P. James as a candidate to succeed himself on the bench of the District Court of Appeal for the Second District, which sits at Los Angeles. The petition was made up of 5,500 signature slips, and exceeded the minimum number required by more than 1,200. Heading the big petition were the signatures of 550 members of the bar of Los Angeles County, this number embracing practically all of the active practitioners of all political faiths and factions. For many years Judge James has occupied a place on the bench in this county. He was last the judge of Department One of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, and while sitting in that court was transferred by appointment to the District Court of Appeal. It was found that, notwithstanding the political parties had made no nomination for the place, the law evidently contemplated that it should be voted for at the ensuing election, and hence Judge James will appear as an independent candidate. As soon as it became known that this procedure would be necessary, the bar came forward and almost unanimously endorsed Judge James' candidacy. Several members of the Lincoln-Roosevelt executive committee joined the committee which has taken charge of his candidacy, and the voters generally of the different political faiths and factions have made common cause in assisting in Judge James' nomination. In order that the voters generally might be informed of the situation and conditions affecting this office, the committee issued a statement to the public, which is as follows:

"If the vote at the November election will look under the heading, 'Independent Nominations,' which will appear after the columns of the regular party tickets on the ballot, he will find listed the office of 'Associate Justice of the District Court of Appeal for the Unexpired Term,' and the name of William P. James as a candidate therefor. This office will not appear in any party column, and each voter will be entitled to vote his entire party ticket, and in addition thereto vote for a candidate for the office mentioned. Another office appearing in the party columns and designated as 'Associate Justice of the District Court of Appeal,' is a distinct and separate office. Judge William P. James is at present an associate justice of the District Court of Appeal, and he is a candidate to succeed himself for the unexpired term. He has a record of many years of service on the bench, and is known as an upright, unbiased and capable judge. He was first appointed to the Superior Court bench of Los Angeles County by Governor Stanford, and after serving the appointive term, was elected by the people to fill a full term of six years. When Justice Taggart of the District Court of Appeal died this year, members of the bar and the business community generally urged Judge James to permit his name to be presented with their endorsement for appointment. To this request he, with some reluctance, acceded, for the acceptance of the appointment to the District Court of Appeal required that he resign his position on the superior bench, where his term would have continued for two more years. The general endorsement in support of Judge James brought him the appointment to fill the vacancy so occasioned by Judge Taggart's death, which position he has since filled, and is now holding. Owing to the uncertainty in the law as to the length of the appointive term, a committee went to work a few weeks ago to secure the necessary certificates of nomination to entitle Judge James' name to a place on the ballot in the Independent column. These certificates were signed generally by our citizens.

"We, as a committee, have volunteered our services, in order that the people may be informed of the situation as it affects this judicial office. We believe that it is the desire of the people to retain in office the men who have given faithful and efficient service, especially on the bench, and we know that Judge James and state in an able, efficient and painstaking manner. To the end that he may be continued in his present work, we urge upon the voters that they do not overlook his name when they cast their ballots, and to remember that his name appears in the Independent column only."

EXPOSITION PLANS IN STRONG HANDS

San Francisco Proud of Men Directing Its Big Enterprise

San Francisco's organization for the conduct of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition may be regarded as one of the most remarkable products of that remarkable city. For several years political conditions in the community, through some unfortunate series of coincidences, have been open to criticism. A year ago the average Californian of Siskiyou or San Diego might have protested the city's right to hold a great world's fair.

But at the proper time, when there was made evident the need of big men for a big undertaking, there emerged from their places of habitual retreat thirty of the foremost citizens of California, ready and willing to assume the burden of detail and the heavy responsibilities that the situation imposed. Politics, opposing business interests, private antagonisms and feuds a generation old were laid aside and forgotten when there was presented the opportunity to accomplish a gigantic result.

In the selection of the board of directors the San Francisco Exposition is more fortunate than many another California institution organized for pecuniary profit. Practically every branch of business is represented, nor was there neglected the interests of education and morality. No Denying San Francisco.
San Francisco has gone after the proposed Panama exposition with customary extravagance. The Legislature has authorized a special state tax to raise $5,000,000 for the purpose and a special bond issue in San Francisco to raise another $5,000,000. Private subscriptions amount to $7,500,000. There can be no denying a city which wants an exposition so badly as that—Buffalo Express.

CRESCENT CITY A FORMIDABLE RIVAL

Timely Advice Is Given By the San Diego Union

The urgent necessity of united action by all California in the great fight to secure the Panama Exposition for San Francisco is set forth in a timely and carefully considered editorial in the San Diego Union as follows:

"At the outset it is well not to underestimate the strength of the movement for New Orleans. That city, it is true, has not made a very imposing financial showing as a candidate for exposition honors. It is relying for pecuniary support upon the State of Louisiana rather than upon itself. Its pretensions, too, have been the theme of not a little good-natured ridicule in the East as well as upon the Pacific Coast. Nevertheless, the time has come when California should fully recognize that the Crescent City is a formidable adversary. Its residents are full of enthusiasm for the exposition project. They are warmly supported by the people of their State, and what is far more important, unless present indications are utterly misleading, the influence of most of the States east of the Rocky mountains will be thrown to the Southern city, if, indeed, it has not already been bestowed there.

"Against these odds the city of San Francisco could hardly hope to win single-handed, even though it doubled its preliminary exposition fund and pledged $17,500,000 instead of the $7,500,000 that has been subscribed. To obtain the recognition of Congress as the designated city for an exposition that shall worthily commemorate the opening of the Panama canal, San Francisco should have the combined support of the whole Pacific Coast. The first step to obtain that support should be to make sure of the backing of the entire State of California. New Orleans would cut no figure whatever as an aspirant for exposition honors, had that city failed to enlist the aid of Louisiana. San Francisco will be in a weak position unless California is behind it."

"BACK TO THE FARM"

XL.—Rural Education—The Agricultural College.

By C. V. GREGORY.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

IN 1862 congress passed a law appropriating money for the establishment of colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts. Today there are sixty-seven such institutions in the United States. The establishment of the agricultural colleges opened up an entirely new field of education. The study of science and the application of that science to the problems of everyday life began to take the place of the study of classics. Educating a man merely to have him educated began to go out of style, and the truer education that better fits a man to tackle the problems of life took its place.

The growth of the agricultural colleges was slow at first, and not until within the last fifteen years have they really come to fill the place for which they were designed. At first the idea of educating a farmer was laughable to many people who rejoiced in a little learning. Even the farmer himself did not realize the advantage of a college education to a man who must make a living from the soil. It took a good many years to bring people to realize that college education is as valuable for a farmer as for a doctor or a lawyer. The main difference is that the law compels a man to get a college diploma before he starts to practice medicine, while he may start farming with nothing but a team and a plow.

Even at the present time there are many men both on the farm and in the cities who doubt the value of a college education for the farmer. Many a farm boy is squarely confronted with the problem of choosing between four years in college or starting to farm at once. Four years is a long time to a young man. Fifteen hundred to $2,000 is a large sum of money to him. To spend both for a college education requires a great deal of courage and faith in the future.

The amount of money necessary to pay four years' expenses in college will enable the young man to start farming on a rented farm. The four years will, if he is industrious, enable him to earn enough to make a good sized payment on a farm of his own. If he goes to college he will have nothing at the end of the four years but the experience and knowledge he has gained there. Is it worth it?

I have put this question squarely to dozens of men in their last year at an agricultural college. Without exception they say that it is worth the outlay. Not one regretted the time or the money which he had bartered for his education. Few of them placed it on a money basis alone, but even from that standpoint they considered that the chances were in favor of the college man.

The boy who starts farming for himself without any education will run up against a good many snags which the college man will miss. He will learn by experience many of the things which the college man learns in school. In doing so he will pay much dearer for his knowledge. The old prejudice against "book farming" is fast disappearing. People are coming to realize that book farming is merely the fused experience of successful farmers everywhere, explained and illumined by the light of science. Probably in no one respect is the advantage of the college man more clearly apparent than in the case of soil fertility. Long after the untrained man has begun to notice and wonder at the decline of his crop yields the man who has studied the science of soil fertility will be raising undiminished crops. The art of keeping up the soil fertility cannot be learned from the neighbors, for they have not practiced it. It cannot be learned from father or grandfather, for in their day the fertility of the soil was considered inexhaustible.

The success of the agricultural college graduate cannot be measured in money alone. The agricultural communities just now need leaders much more than they need men who can simply make money on their own farms. It is necessary for the agricultural college graduate to succeed on his own farm, of course. His every move is closely watched by critical neighbors. Even the shadow of a failure starts a chorus of "I told you so."

Success on his own farm is the first essential to the young man who would be a leader. Given that for backing, he can do almost anything he wants to with his community. Farmers have a vast deal of respect for the man who can do things. Their prejudice against college farming is lost in admiration for the results achieved by the college farmer. If he advises organizing a club—they are willing to join in and help. If he tells them the school needs reorganizing they are willing to be convinced. They may even consent to bringing two or three schools together and using the money saved to hire better teachers. The inspiration of one man's success and the energy imparted by him is sufficient to start a whole community to thinking. Once you get a man to thinking, there is no need to worry further about him. He will take care of himself.

If an energetic young farmer with an agricultural education could be placed in each township throughout the farming sections the results would be an enlightened agriculture that would be the envy of the whole world. A leading educator recently made the statement that three live agricultural college graduates could in ten years increase the value of the land in any agricultural county $20 per acre. That sounds incredible, but it is literally true. The community would become so progressive that it would be worth $20 an acre more to live there.

The charge has been made that agricultural college graduates do not go back to the farm. The facts do not bear out this assertion. While the percentage varies, it is safe to say that fully 50 per cent of the graduates go directly to the farm. The others go into some work closely related to farming. In my acquaintance with young men just finishing college I have known of very few who were not anxious to go to farming. A good many of them do not do so because of lack of capital. They have spent all their money in college, and it looks to them like uphill business to start farming without a cent. They are overwhelmed with offers of salaried positions at salaries of from $1,000 to $2,000 a year to start with. Experiment stations, agricultural colleges, agricultural papers and manufacturers of agricultural products are all looking for agricultural college graduates.

Many of the men go into some work of this kind until they can save money enough to start farming.

Of the college graduates who do take up farming as a business the greater number rent the home farm or go into partnership with their respective fathers. This is the ideal way for a young man to get a start. Under such favorable circumstances he cannot help but succeed. Often, however, there are enough brothers at home to occupy all the land. The young college farmer must look elsewhere for a job. Every year the agricultural colleges are receiving a larger number of calls for farm managers. Many of these offers are exceedingly liberal. They come for the most part from farmers who wish to retire from active work and at the same time do not wish to sell or rent their farms. They are often willing to take the right sort of a young man in on a partnership basis or give him a percentage of the net profits. A position of this kind is the next best thing to owning a farm.

Although an agricultural college education is of great value, it must not be taken from what I have said that success without such an education is impossible. Many farmer boys are not fitted for an education of this kind either by temperament or ability. Many others are so situated that they cannot be away from home for four years. Still others do not have the money. For these boys an agricultural college education is an impossibility. To teach them something about their business some other form of education is necessary. This is being supplied by the secondary schools. The work of these schools will be described in the next article.

Elizabethan slang.

According to the latest edition of Webster's Dictionary, one meaning of "lobster" is "a glib, awkward, bungling or undesirable fellow." This meaning is supposed by most persons to be a modern development of slang. However, "lobster" was a favorite term of abuse among Englishmen of Queen Elizabeth's day, and Shakespeare may have denounced his callboy as a "lobster" when the boy failed to attend to his duties. Some students of the word think it probably was applied first to men with red faces. As signifying a soldier the term "lobster" is as old as Cromwell's day. Lord Clarendon, historian of the civil war in England, explains that it was applied to the Roundhead cuirassiers "because of the bright iron shells with which they were covered. Afterward British soldiers in their red uniforms were called 'lobsters.' Then came another development. The soldier in the red coat became a 'lobbed lobster,' while the policeman in blue was, of course, an 'unlobbed' or 'raw lobster.' Again, 'to lob a lobster' was for a man to enlist in the army and put on a red coat.—Chicago News.

An Eye on the Future.

A man with a swollen finger, that had a deep abrasion under the ring called at a jewelry store to get the ring cut off. Before the operation was begun he said:

"Can this ring be mended so a pawnbroker will give me the usual amount on it?"

"It can be mended," said the jeweler, "but I doubt if you can ever persuade a pawnbroker to accept it afterward."

"Then I guess I'll take chances of my finger getting well with the ring on," said the young man and left the store.

"Incidents like that," said the jeweler, "show what a surprisingly large number of Philadelphians live with the pawnshop looming up just ahead of them as an unavoidable evil. Of all the people who need their rings cut off two-thirds of them ask that very question, and a large percentage of them take chances on blood poisoning rather than destroy the ring's value as a pawnable asset."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Little Word "Yes."

"Yes" is a simple word spelled with three letters.

It has caused more happiness and more unhappiness than any other word in the language.

It has lost more money for easy lenders than all the holes in all the pockets in the world.

It has started more dipsomaniacs on their careers than all the strong liquor on earth.

It has caused more fights than all the "you're liars" that ever were spoken.

It has procured kisses and provoked blows.

It has defeated candidates and elected scoundrels.

It has been used in more lies than any other expression.

It is not meant half the time it is said.

Will it continue to make such a record?

Yes.—Life.

Wouldn't Deliver.

He was born in Dublin and lived in Ireland until about two months ago, when he came to Cleveland. Then he began to look around for a job. The manager of a furniture house promised to give him a trial.

"Come around in the morning and go to work," he said, "and if you can deliver the goods we'll probably keep you permanently."

The Dublin native went over to tell his cousin about it. He confided to him that he didn't believe he'd go back to take the job, after all.

"They want me to deliver the goods," he said. "Think of going around delivering big, heavy furniture. That's what horses and wagons are for in my country."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Harvard University.

Harvard University derives its name from Rev. John Harvard, its earliest benefactor, who in 1638 bequeathed one-half of his estate, amounting to £800, for the endowment of the college. Harvard hall was built in 1765, Holworthy hall of brick in 1812 and Hollis hall, also of brick, in 1764. Stoughton hall, being of the same dimensions and material as Hollis, was built in 1804, and a writer of 1817 states that "its appearance is somewhat in the modern style."

What He Admired.

"What did father say when you asked him for my hand?"

"Oh," replied Augustus, "he—he did his best to be pleasant. He said there was something about me that he really admired."

"Did he say what?"

"Yes; my impudence."

Last Sunday the property owners along Parke avenue rolled the street in front of their places between Central avenue and Brand boulevard. It was very evident that throughout the day a number of those living along the section of the street where the work was being done were greatly annoyed at this unnecessary desecration of the Sabbath. ## IMPROVEMENT WORK FOR CENTRAL AVENUE.

The residents along Central avenue between Parke avenue and Tenth street are making elaborate plans for improvement along the street before their property. The one thing that is hindering the going ahead with this work is the lack of the official grade, which will be made by the surveyors for the good road work which will run along this avenue soon. The work will consist of the laying of sidewalks and curbs along either side of the avenue. On the west side a wide parkway is being planned for, in the center of which will run a row of palms, and flowers will be planted. All other trees along this proposed parkway are being grubbed out, so that the uniformity of the street may not be broken. Cement driveways will be made in the front of each lot. We were informed this week that one thing that is hindering the work on the west side of the street is the lack of water for the mixing of the cement. Cement work along the north side of Parke avenue will be done just as soon as this needed water can be supplied.

Mrs. Stitt and little daughter of Madelia is visiting her sister, Mrs. Pen hollow of Ivy street, and Mrs. Mackey of West Fifth street.

Mrs. A. B. Holmes and daughter, Mrs. Leroy K. Daniels, of Los Angeles, were entertained at luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John L. Russ, 1229 Milford street.

J. W. Everett, 1509 Hawthorne street, returned last week from a hunting and fishing trip near Fillmore, Ventura county. He had excellent luck and brought back a fine catch of mountain trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Woolley and children, Elmer and Baby Francis, have returned from Coalinga where Mr. Woolley has been engaged in business for some time. They are temporarily located at the home of Mrs. Woolley's sister, Mrs. J. S. Stine, Fourth street, but expect their household goods any day, and will soon have a home of their own.

On Thursday evening last as Dr. Wallace, proprietor of the Glendale Steam Laundry was driving his auto east in Ivy street, the light went out and this part of town being without electric lights, the doctor failed to see the dairy wagon of Jas. Connor of North Glendale, which was standing in front of the residence of Mr. Gervais. In consequence the mud-guard of the auto struck the wagon upsetting it and throwing Mr. Connor's son, who was in the wagon at the time, some distance, but luckily he escaped without a scratch. About four or five dozen milk bottles, which happened to be empty, were broken. Dr. Wallace assumed all blame.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING.

The first meeting this term was held at the West Glendale school on Thursday afternoon. A very interesting address was given by a speaker from Los Angeles, and some very pleasing vocal selections by Mrs. Col. Thornton. Other musical numbers were on the program and at the close of the meeting ice cream and cake was served to all present.

New scholars continue to arrive, four coming in this past week. "Three cheers for Columbus" was sounding in all directions last Wednesday, Oct. 12, more especially from the scholars of all the schools in the valley, as that day was set aside as a holiday to be known as "Columbus Day."

WEST GLENDALE CHURCH NOTES.

The Ladies' Aid certainly believe in "boosting" their church along all they can, for one day last week, about eight or ten of the ladies got together and with the help of a few men, took the old building in hand and turned it right about face, where it will be a part of the fine new building which is being rapidly pushed to completion.

Last Thursday evening about thirty members of the church surprised their pastor, Rev. Morrison and wife, by tendering them a reception at their home. A very pleasant evening was spent.

On next Tuesday evening, Oct. 18th, a Halloween social will be given at the residence of Mrs. P. A. Penhollow, 1526 Ivy street, in the interest of the church. Everybody is given a cordial invitation.

At a recent meeting of the Ladies' Aid an election of officers was held and owing to the efficient way in which the old officers performed their duties last year, they were all re-elected for the following year.
